

From: International Class Executive Committee
To: All ICA member NCAs
Re: Status of Rule changes 2.4 mR Class

ISAF have rejected the proposed changes to Section K!
Here the wording sent by the co-ordinator for ISAF Technical and Offshore Department to our secretary:

Hi Pekka,

The proposed change to the sail rules to allow battens was approved by the CRSC. The amendment sheet is attached for your reference.

The proposed changes to Section K were rejected by the Committee as it was felt this is creating a new class, not amending the existing one.
The comments from the Committee were as follows:

- REJECT - The class are proposing a complete set of new class rules as an appendix to a current class
- I support the view that the proposed 2.4 mR class rules amendments are rejected on the grounds that the proposed 2.4 OD is considered to be a new class.

In a meeting Tuesday June 2 the EC decided to investigate the reasons for rejecting more closely through initiated sources.

We believe that the wording does not reflect the whole truth and that there must be a misunderstanding of our intentions with the proposed changes to Section K.

The EC will have a new meeting week beginning with June 7 to decide about further steps.

Karl Wessberg

Chairman EC